Two men argue at a political protest in New York City. Argumentation theory, or argumentation, is the interdisciplinary study of how conclusions can be reached through logical reasoning; that is, claims based, soundly or not, on premises. It includes the arts and sciences of civil debate, dialogue, conversation, and persuasion.

History is an argument about how to interpret the past, but students often think of it as a timeline of events or a straightforward set of facts. To counteract this, I emphasize in my classes that the past cannot be examined without interpretation, and that historians will arrive at different, and often conflicting, conclusions.
